Hemingway Fine Homes

Clearly, this is more than a bathroom; it is an experience. Hemingway was tasked with marrying an interior main bath spa to an exterior private oasis. The result is a modern masterpiece that feels like a private resort.

The bathroom is equipped with a soaking tub, which is attached to an exterior hot tub. A motorized wall of glass in between provides ease of alternating cold and hot plunges. These seamlessly connected tubs are a favorite feature among many amenities: electronic toilet, motorized solar shades, 18-foot-long floating teak vanity, Atlantic Bluestone flooring, mosaic tile, heated back and head rests in both tubs and an exterior sun deck.

“The biggest challenge was to make the bathroom feel like a resort where the client can ‘come home to vacation,” says Peter Sciarretta. “They did not want the spaces to feel like you are entering a bathroom or exterior terrace but a true sundrenched retreat.” — BY JILL JOHNSON MANN
