Connecticut designers see...

"...universally more modern in design and at the same time have a warmer, cozier feel." —Gara Morse, Gara & Co., garacompany.com

"...consistent with the architecture of the house. But I love modern bathroom styles and will incorporate as much as I can." —Lynn Morgan, Lynn Morgan Design, lynnorgandesign.com

"...stylistically well edited: a minimal approach with very clever detailing and resourceful storage solutions. Richer materials are replacing the all-white environment." —Amy Hirsch, Amy Aidinis Hirsch Interior Design, amyhirsch.com

"...more transitional; predominantly white with modern fixtures and clean freestanding tubs; especially popular are full-slab showers or fully tiled master walls." —Michelle Morgan Harrison, Morgan Harrison Home, morganharrison-home.com

"...freestanding tubs, vanities and cabinetry. Almost like a deconstructed old-fashioned kitchen where each piece has its own personality and style." —Kathy Hodge, Sage Design, sagedesign.com
